

"It is important to have excellent clinical skills to succeed in modern dentistry. However, you need to show empathy with the patient, demonstrate excellent human relation skills and to be able to communicate the language that the patient understands, Ashish always demonstrates all these qualities. He is also always willing to share his knowledge and skills to other dentists through his teaching both nationally and internationally."

Ashley Latter (Dental Coach)